III. General professional experience:

As arbitrator for the NASD I have served as a panelist many times and have chaired several cases. As mediator under the New York State Unified Court System I have mediated scores of disputes, ranging from community to child visitation and welfare. As executive coach, I have advised numerous corporate clients on navigating difficult leadership and employee relations issues. Additionally, I have held multiple informal mediations aimed at easing tensions and avoiding litigation.

IV. General pertinent experience:

I have 12 years of mediation experience, covering a variety of corporate, academic, and non-profit sectors. I currently teach mediation and dispute resolution at John Jay College of Criminal Justice, mentor new mediators at Safe Horizon, as well as teach corporate clients how to resolve workplace conflict. I have chaired several NASD arbitration cases, as well as sat on many attorney-client dispute panels for the New York County Lawyers' Association.
